PRESIDENT COMPLIES

WITH CHILD'S REQUEST. Releases Dove Which Had Suffered from Broken Wing.

Pass Christian, Miss., Jan. 8.—President Wilson stood on the veranda of his cottage at sunset today and, acting on the request of a little brown haired schoolgirl, released a white dove whose broken wing she had nursed back to strength. The bird fluttered for a moment, then paused on a heavy limbed oak, as if preparing for a long flight, and soon was lost in the even-

School children lined both sides of the main street, singing America, and people came flocking from stores and shops as the president's car slowed down. A child of 12 handed the nation's chief executive a box and letter which she asked him not to open until he reached home. When the president arrived he read the following:

"Dear Mr. President:

"You will find in this box a real, live dove. It flew in the door and broke its wing several months ago. We have cared for it and now that it is well my mamma says we must give it freedom. If you will do me the honor to open its prison and let it fly away to find companions of its kind, I shall be very grateful.

Water Service Superior to All-rail Service.

The application recites in part: "Your petitioner avers, as between New England communities and New York city, the service by rail and water performed by your petitioner in connection with said lines and the service by water performed by the said lines is supported by the said lines is superior to the all rail service performed between said points. The investigation recently conducted by your honorable body showed the superiority of this service over the allperiority of this service over the all-rail service, the reason being that goods which were delivered on board steamboats are practically certain of delivery the following morning at a convenient wharf in New York city and eastbound goods delivered at con-venient wharf in New York the previ-ous day are practically certain of de-livery the following morning at destin-ation except remote points, where deation except remote points, where de-livery is accomplished the second day."

Not Binding On Department of Justice. Under this application the New Haven will undoubtedly be granted an opportunity to argue the justness of its claim to keep the water lines before the commission. No date had been set tonight for a hearing on the applica-tion, but the commission may take such action shortly.

It was pointed out tonight, however, that although this step by the New Haven has put the matter of steamship line ownership before the commission, it has no binding effect upon the department of justice. The department is not negotiating with the New Here Here is not negotiating with the New Hav-en over the Panama Canal act, but the Sherman law and if it feels that A Movement to Build a million dollar monument in Nashville to the memory of General Andrew Jackson, seventh president of the United States, was launched last night at a banquet thousand the water route.
